This form was prepared as part of a research/survey/nomination project in 2011-2012 funded by a HRDP grant from the State Historical Society of Iowa for the nomination of the Washington Downtown Historic District. The information below is taken from the table in the August 2012 draft of the nomination, with additional information documented on the property and photographs in the following sections.

7. Narrative Description

This is a two story tan brick commercial building with a modern store front. It has a central glass/steel entry door, and display windows which go from the sidewalk to the transom area, which is clad in metal. There are two large windows on the right side, and a large window and door on the left side. On the far right side of the storefront, a steel secondary door provides access to the second story. There is a storefront cornice above the transom area. On the second story there is a steel clad oriel window with two fixed windows facing the street, and a narrow fixed window on each side of the oriel window. There is a slight flare to the bulkhead. The roof of the oriel window is rounded and appears to be metal. To the left and right of the oriel window there are single-light windows. Soldier brick that extends partly down each side create a type of window hood for each window. Simple rows of brick extend across the facade above these windows. Above this detail, there is an applied cornice with dentils and two pairs of brackets which are placed above each side of the oriel window. Above this cornice, there are three brick rectangles, which have recessed brick within the frame, on the parapet wall. Pilasters extend up both sides of the building to the parapet, capped with stone or concrete.

8. Narrative Statement of Significance

The Keeley Building appears to contribute historically and architecturally to the Washington Downtown Historic District. The facade was remodeled by William M. Keeley around 1913, and the integrity dates to this period.

The property was originally owned by Henry Smouse, who purchased it in April 1867. The 1868 Bird's Eye View drawing of Washington shows a frame building at this location. In February 1875, the property was sold to A.L. Smouse, and an 1877 ad from the Washington Press lists the delicious items at Smouse's Grocery on the east side of the square. Sanborn maps show the building as a restaurant (1885), and a bakery (1892, 1897, 1902, & 1909). Ads (Washington Journal) show the restaurant is operated by Harvey & Warfel in 1897. The property was sold from A.S. Smouse to T.T. Keeley on October 28, 1901. H.E. Keeley (widow) then transferred it to W.M. Keeley on May 5, 1908. T.T. Keeley in 1908. Hannah E. Keeley and son William M. Keeley (lawyer) lived/worked at 210 W. Washington in this period. It was known as the East Side Restaurant in 1900, 1906, and 1910 when the restaurant owner is Ira Shenefelt (Washington Journal ads and 1910 city directory).

Postcard views from the 1890s and early 1900s show an Italianate building with arch windows on the second story, until around the time of the bank remodel on the north corner in 1912-13. Interestingly, a c.1911 view shows the buildings to the north and south remodeled, while this one retained its arch windows. The 1909 Sanborn map shows the building with a height of 25 feet, while it was then 27 feet on the 1917 Sanborn map. This map then also shows the square bay window on the second story. Thus, it appears that after William M. Keeley acquired the building in 1908, he remodeled the facade (or rebuilt the building) around 1913. The work was complete by postcard views that show the bank remodeled (1912-13) at the north corner also complete, as well as complete by the 1917 Sanborn map. The 1917 Sanborn map shows a Boots & Shoes store here.

In the 1926 telephone directory, the occupant is Thompson's Sanitary Market. Thompson Grocery is listed here in the 1932 directory. The (Great) A & P Tea Co. is listed here in 1935, and the A & P Food Store is here in the 1941 city directory. They then moved to the west side of the square.

Speedway Food Store is at this address in the 1952 and 1956 telephone directories.

In the 1964 city directory, it is vacant. The 1964 map of the square shows it as Simmering's Hardware. S.C. Simmering had previously managed the Coast to Coast for several years. Simmering's was still here in 1971.

By 1989, Simmering's had become The Game Room. The current occupant is Systems Unlimited, who provides services to children, family, and adults with disabilities.
