This form was prepared as part of a research/survey/nomination project in 2011-2012 funded by a HRDP grant from the State Historical Society of Iowa for the nomination of the Washington Downtown Historic District. The project was primarily structured to develop the nomination for the downtown, with additional research on each building documented on an Iowa Site Inventory form. The information below is taken from the table in the November 2012 draft of the nomination, with additional information documented on the property and photographs in the following sections.

7. Narrative Description

This is a one-story concrete block building, which is now part of the Marshall's Furniture complex. Though basic concrete block construction, it has a course of soldier (vertical) concrete blocks across the frieze, and soldier concrete blocks as lintels above the openings. The building faces south, and it has two garage door openings on this side. The opening on the left has metal infill for a smaller overhead door. The opening on the right has a recently replaced overhead garage door with three single-light windows. The entry door is on the far right side of the facade, and it has two fixed lights in the upper part of the door, which has been covered with metal siding. The metal addition to the east was built in 2003. It has a large opening for a delivery truck to park, and a single-light window.

8. Narrative Statement of Significance

The Jungbluth Building appears to be non-contributing in the Washington Downtown Historic District. The concrete block building has been painted, original doors replaced, and a side addition constructed. Thus, it does not appear to retain sufficient integrity.

The 1943 Sanborn map shows a house on this lot. On August 4, 1944, Wisie Long sold the west 47 feet of Lot 6 to Olga A. Jungbluth. The Stewart & Crone Used Car Lot was located here per the 1956... city directory. Per the assessor, this concrete block building was then constructed in 1957. Montgomery Ward was located on the south side of the square at 113-115 W. Washington (demolished for new library), and they used this building for their tire shop for many years. Around 1970, Ward's closed the tire shop, and Marshall's Furniture began to use this building. The building transferred from Olga A. Jungbluth (single) to Walter and Rachel Jungbluth et al on October 6, 1975. They then transferred it to Marshall's (Marshall Realty Co) on March 14, 1978. The building is currently a garage to house Marshall's Furniture and Flooring delivery trucks. A metal addition was built on the east side in 2003. It is located at the west side of the Marshall's complex of buildings (see 221 S. Iowa and 108 W. Jefferson).
